

D'WORKS MARINE TECHNOLOGY INITIATIVE TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Application to Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution's ("WHOI") D'WORKS MARINE TECHNOLOGY INITIATIVE is made by Applicant to request a funding award in the form of a voucher of a specified amount. Applicant may redeem only to obtain access to select WHOI facilities. The voucher award provides no value of any other nature and shall not be redeemable for or paid in cash or other medium of exchange. In providing information for consideration for award and thereafter, neither party shall disclose confidential information to the other party. WHOI retains all rights in its services, including new technologies, methodologies, processes and procedures, while providing access or support services for Applicant. Any WHOI services and results are performed and delivered without warranty of any kind, either express or implied, including but not limited to any warranty of fitness for a particular purpose. The entire risk of Applicant's use of the facility, services, and results shall be solely with the Applicant. Applicant shall indemnify and hold WHOI and the employees, faculty, students and researchers of WHOI harmless from and against any and all liability, damages, losses and expenses arising out of or in connection with Applicant's access to the facilities and WHOI's provision of any support for Applicant. If Applicant is offered a voucher award, Applicant shall be required to execute the D'WORKS MARINE TECHNOLOGY INITIATIVE Participation Agreement. By submitting and signing the application, Applicant agrees to the foregoing Terms and Conditions.
